Description

The rubber parking stopper 1800x150x120 mm with a white reflective strip is a durable, highly visible and reliable traffic safety device designed to improve parking organization and protect infrastructure. Manufactured according to current traffic safety standards and legal guidelines, it is ideal for marking parking spaces, securing pedestrian zones, and preventing vehicle collisions with walls, pillars, and other structures.

Made from premium-quality rubber, the parking separator delivers exceptional resistance to extreme weather conditions, mechanical impacts and heavy-duty use. Its high-visibility white reflector ensures excellent recognition during both day and night, significantly enhancing safety for drivers and pedestrians. Installation is quick and stable — the separator is mounted using four anchor bolts (sold separately), ensuring strong attachment to the ground.

Our company has been manufacturing and importing traffic safety equipment for many years. We supply wholesale and retail customers across many European markets and are recognized for our high product quality, competitive pricing and fast delivery. Most items are shipped directly from our warehouse, guaranteeing rapid order fulfillment and product availability.

This parking stopper offers a wide range of applications: marking parking bays, separating pedestrian and vehicle routes, protecting infrastructure, organizing temporary traffic, marking bicycle paths and isolating restricted zones. It can also be used as a curb element.

Additional uses include:

1. Organizing company parking lots
2. Marking electric vehicle charging spaces
3. Securing garage entrances
4. Delimiting delivery zones
5. Protecting warehouse equipment from vehicles

The 1800 mm rubber parking stopper is an excellent combination of durability, safety and affordability — a perfect choice for anyone seeking high-quality traffic safety equipment.
